Sell Your Heart

Words: Hussein al-Sayyid
Music: Kamal al-Tawil

"Sell" your heart, "sell" your love
Look who the "buyer" will be
Look at my vow--who, after me
Will protect it for you?
The vow which protected you
The heart which ransomed you
Its days--their life is in years
Look who the buyer will be
Before you forget the dear vow
Remember a night and give nights
Look--without us he spent nights
Living with the life of my youth in him
You'll find the step of my heart and your heart
Waiting there
Carrying me is a word left by you
When I was with you
What am I to do, tell me, you who remember me,
By your recompense, what am I to do?
Sell your heart, sell your love . . .
